

The City of Toronto holds public consultations as one way to engage residents in the life of their city. We invite you to get involved.

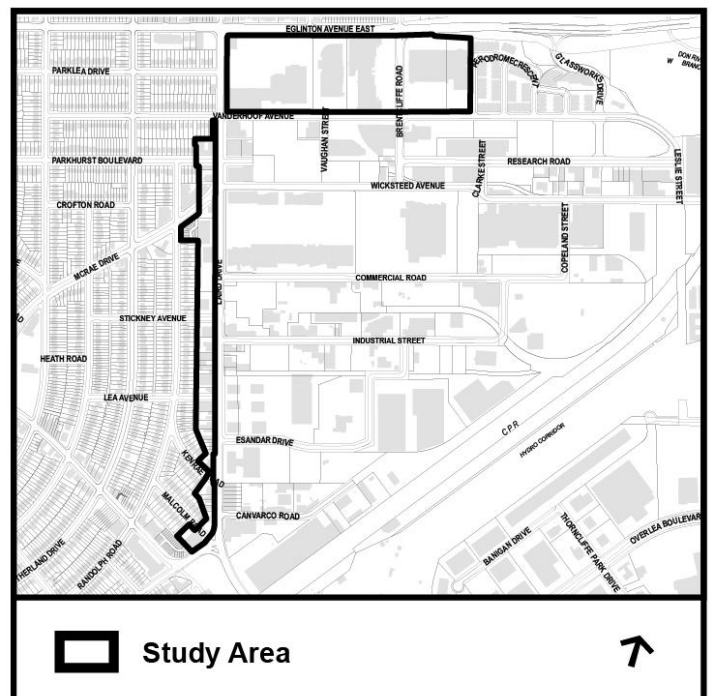

Laird in Focus Planning Study

Background, Visioning and Principles Workshop

Join us on Monday, May 1st, 2017 for a Background, Visioning and Principles Workshop for the Laird in Focus Study.

Laird in Focus is a study lead by the City of Toronto City Planning Division that will develop a planning framework to guide future development of the Laird Drive and Eglinton Avenue East area. The study will refine and build upon the existing planning structure as well as recent planning initiatives undertaken in the area. It will develop a vision and policies for a complete community which supports new streets and blocks, parks and open spaces, buildings, community services and facilities, enhanced public realm and a transportation and servicing strategy.

The purpose of this meeting is to engage the community in the development of a vision statement and fundamental principles that will guide planning and design for the study area. Additionally, the study team will share the results of their background review and receive input on the inventory and analysis of existing and planned conditions for the area.
